PART A: STRATEGIC OVERVIEW OF THE ASSEMBLY

Establishment of the District

Brief Introduction of the District

Afigya Kwabre South is one (1) of the forty-three (43) Political Administrative Districts in the Ashanti Region carved out of the then Afigya Kwabre District on the 14th day of November 2017 by Legislative Instrument (L.I 2333), with Kodie as the district capital at digital address AF-0006-1255.

Location and Size

The Afigya-Kwabre South District is located in the semi-deciduous forest zone.

The District is located in the central part of Ashanti Region of Ghana between Latitudes 6.893867 and 6.894077, and Longitudes -1.68917 and -1.52372 (WGS 84 coordinate system).

The district has an area of about 122 square kilometers (12,188.3 hectares). The District is bounded by Suame Municipal Assembly to the South, Afigya Kwabre North to the North, Atwima-Nwabiagya North to the West, Sekyere South to the North East, and Kwabre East Municipal to the South East. The central location of the district within the Ashanti Region coupled with its accessibility to most of the areas make interaction among the populace very easy. Its closeness to Kumasi, the second largest city in Ghana makes it a dormitory district and has a high population growth rate and a fast growth of settlements. This has resulted in intense pressure on socio-economic facilities as well as increase in waste generation.

Again, the nearness of the District to the urbanized community of Kumasi Metropolis has made parts of the district to assume urban status. Such towns include Atimatim, Heman, Nkukua-Buoho, Kodie and Afrancho. There is an assumption of increased revenue from these communities because of the increased commercial activities in the townships.

The District in Regional Context

Climate

The zone is characterized by relatively high rainfall (about 1400mm per annum with a bimodal pattern). The major rainy season occurs between March and mid-July with a peak in May /June and there is a dry spell from mid-July to mid-August.

The minor rainy season starts from mid-August to about the end of October with a peak in September. A district experiences a long dry period from November to February with possibilities of occasional rains. Temperatures are normally high throughout the year with very little variations.

The mean monthly temperatures range from 25°C in July/August to 28°C in March /April. The District experiences relative humidity ranging from 90 – 98% during the night and early mornings of the rainy season. Daytime humidity falls below 75% during the harmattan season. The climatic conditions favour the cultivation of diverse variety of cash and food crops, which are of tropical nature. The original vegetation is forest and this has largely been degraded by lumbering, expansion of settlements and farming. Again, the relatively high temperatures and sunshine favour the processing of most crops such as cocoa, maize cocoa etc.

The landscape is a dissected plateau and generally undulating with heights reaching 244m to 1,200m above sea level. Besides the river valleys, there are very few waterlog areas which support the growth of deep-rooted crops/plants.

Vegetation

The original forest vegetation has largely been degraded by lumbering activities, expansion of settlements and farming. The closed forest consisted of a continuous canopy of tall and medium – height trees with little or no undergrowth no longer exists. The area now largely consists of farm patches with isolated stands of individual trees or small areas of tree-clusters as shown in Plate 1. Crops cultivated in the district include, cocoa, oil palm, citrus, avocado pear, coffee, plantain, maize, cassava, cocoyam, cowpea, vegetables etc.

Forest vegetation

Plate 1

Relief and Drainage

The landscape is a dissected plateau with heights reaching 244m to 366m above sea level. The plateau forms part of the Mampong-Gambaga scarp. The landscape is predominantly undulating resulting in erosion along the slopes.

The relief in the district is generally undulating with altitude ranging from 244-304m. Isolated hills around Buoho also have altitudes up to 304m. The undulating nature of the relief of the district makes flow of water easy. Besides the river valleys, there are very few waterlog areas. This again supports the growth of deep-rooted crops/plants. The high points serve as observations for people who enjoy sceneries as shown in plate below.

Plate 2

Soils and Geological Formation

The District has two geological formations, namely Voltaian and Dahomeyan. The Voltaian formation consists of shale, sandstone, mudstone and limestone. The Dahomeyan formation consists of metamorphic rocks such as gneiss and schist.

The mass presence of granite rock in the district supports the quarry industry. This will continue to be a major source of employment and income and so the citizenry must be encouraged to take advantage of the potential.

The soils of Afigya Kwabre South District developed over granite, Lower Birimian phyllite and coarse-grained Voltaian Sandstone. Soil associations or mapping units over each of these parent materials are as follows:

1. Soils developed over granite and associated rocks

Kumasi – Offin Compound Association, Bomso – Offin Compound Association and Nyanao–Opimo Association

2. Soils developed over Voltaian rocks (sandstone)

Bekwai–Oda Compound Association

3. Soils developed over lower Birimian rocks

The soil types consist of Kumasi-Offin Compound Association, Bomso-Offin Association, Jamasi Simple Association, Bediesi-Sutawa Association and Yaya-Primpimson Association.

The Kumasi-Offin Compound Soil is good for tree crops such as citrus, cocoa, coffee and oil palm. They are also good for food crops like, cocoyam, plantain, cassava and yam.

The Bediesi-Sutawa Association has high water holding capacity and is suitable for mechanized agriculture. They support crops like maize, yam, legumes, cassava, plantain and groundnuts.

The soils are very rich and good for agricultural purposes. The district has been a major source of food supply and cocoa, which still has a bright future. The soils have textured surface horizons in which sandy-loams are common. The lower horizons have slightly heavier textures while the valley bottoms are clayey textured. Generally, the district has good soils for agricultural development. Over 90% of the soils developed from granite except a small area to the north-east and southwest where they developed over sandstone and lower Birimian Phyllite respectively.

The top soils are mainly sandy loams and so are susceptible to erosion. Preventive measures are important in the cultivation of the soils. Practices such as cover cropping, mulching, avoidance of burning etc., to protect the topsoil are very useful. The rocky hills of the Nyanao –Opimo association around Buoho is important with quarries established in the area. The rocky hills and outcrops around Ntiri-Buoho, Nkukua-Buoho and Afrancho, constitutes a potential for investment and employment creation in view of the growing residential development in and out of the district as well as for road construction.

Conditions of the Natural Environment

The natural environment of the district, which used to be one of the purest in the region, is gradually losing its purity and importance. This is attributable to the increase in population and its attendant problems and effects on the environment. The district can boast of natural environment ranging from forest reserves with rich species of flora and fauna to vast arable land that can support the production of both staple and cash crops.

Degraded Forest

Plate 3

The district also has a number of undeveloped tourist sites. These include the Grotto at Buoho, Buoho rock outcrops etc.

Human activities have changed the natural environment drastically. Indiscriminate felling of trees for timber and fuel wood, continuous cultivation and incidents of bush burning which has become ritualized have left very little of the original forest mostly found along river courses. With the current population density of over 332.5 persons per square kilometer and increasing demand for land for residential purposes, available land for agriculture has reduced and the natural vegetation depleted.

Conditions of the Built Environment

Like any other District in the country, the condition of the built environment differs from larger communities to smaller communities with the larger communities having very poor environmental conditions.

Conditions of the urban communities like Atimatim, Afrancho, Buoho etc are characterized by large compound houses, poor drainage facilities, unkempt surroundings and heaps of refuse.

In the rural areas, erosion is so severe that most buildings have exposed foundation. Even though conditions in the rural areas are better than the urban areas, traces of unkempt surroundings and pools of stagnant water can be located in some rural communities.

Housing conditions in the rural areas characterized by exposed foundation with majority of them built with mud. Settlements nucleated with some of them very far from larger settlements. In the urban centers, modernity and westernization is catching up speedily. Most of the houses constructed with sand Crete and aluminum sheets roofing.

Population Structure

The 2010 Population and Housing Census posted the district's population at 93,508 at a growth rate of 2.7%. The location of the district has a potential for faster growth. The district has assumed a dormitory status serving the Regional Capital, Kumasi. Again, due to the pressure on land in Kumasi, some developers are moving from the metropolis to the peri-urban areas. The presence of over 300 houses by the Habitat for Humanity Project at Mowire is a contributory factor. This however puts the district's projected population for 2021 at 234,667.

The ten largest communities within the district according to 2010 census report forms 60.6% (56,658) and the remaining communities forms 39.4% (36,850). This implies that there is going to be increasing pressure on existing facilities in the communities. Thus, there is the need to plan adequately to cater for the increasing population.

Age-Sex Structure

The sex structure of the district indicates 48.7% for males and 51.3% for females, which does not differ very much, from what pertains in 2000. The 2000 Population and Housing Census indicted that there were 48.3% males and 51.7% females. This calls for conscious formulation of policies to increase women participation in development and empower them to contribute meaningfully to the development efforts.

Population Density

According to 2010 Population and Housing Census Report, the district has a population density of 332.5 sq. km. This compared to the national and regional density indicates that, the district is densely populated compared to the national and regional levels. The high density, as explained earlier, is attributable to the nearness of the district to Kumasi. Again, part of the district has assumed peri-urban status attracting many people from Kumasi and other areas. This has brought a lot of pressure on the existing facilities bringing in its trail issues of waste generation and management.

From Table 1.1 above, it is clear that 60.6% of the population is concentrated in the ten (10) largest communities; this is an indication that these communities are fast being urbanized. This implies that there is going to be increasing pressure on existing social facilities in these communities. Thus, there is the need to plan adequately to cater for the increasing population.

The sex structure of the district indicates 48.7% for males and 51.3% for females. According to 2010 Population and Housing Census Report, the district has a population density of 332.5 sq. km

From the 2010 Population and Housing Census, the household size for the district is 4.4. The dependency ratio of the district is 1:0.82 from the 2010 Population and Housing Census Report. The people in the district are mainly Christians that is 78.9% of the total population. This is followed by Islamic religion with 13.8% of the population whiles traditionalist and other worshippers form about 7.3%

District Economy

From the 2010 Population and Housing Census, the service and commerce sub-sector employs more people than the other sub-sectors. For example, the service and commerce employs 55.6% while's agriculture and industrial employs 28.5%, and 15.9 respectively. The situation is attributable to the nearness of the district to Kumasi, the regional capital. The status of the district as a peri-urban had also change the district economy from agrarian to service and commerce. Thus, more people are engage in trading activities to serve the people migrating from other areas into the district. Several manufacturing companies have also located to the district because of lack of space in Kumasi.

Agriculture

- The mainstay of the local economy of the district is agriculture. The sector employs 61% of the total labour force of the district (2010 census report). This prompted the assessment of physical accessibility to agricultural extension services in the district. About 70% of the district has access to agriculture extension services. Major food crops grown by farmers include plantain, cassava, cocoyam, rice, vegetables, yam and maize. Cocoa is the main cash crop cultivated in the district. Fruits like citrus and pawpaw are also cultivated in the district, while there is also livestock production, poultry, piggery and ruminant.
- The district has ten (10) Agricultural Extension Officers and two veterinary extension officers. These agricultural Extension Officers play a major role in promoting agricultural value chain activities by assisting the farmers and other value chain activities in the district.

Road Network

By its unique location along the Offinso-Kumasi highway, the Afigya Kwabre South District has a well-asphalted 5.2km highway. However, a number of the second class roads within the district are currently under construction. The Buoho-Maase road, Hemang-Ankaase and Aboaso-Ejuatia stretch. A number of feeder roads within the district have been reshaped. The 2021 budget has also made provisions from the IGF and the DACF to reshape deplorable town and feeder roads.

Energy

Almost all the larger communities in the district have access to electricity from the national grid. This source powers the small and medium industries such as welders etc. in the district. However, communities like Mposu and Odumakyi do not have access to electricity. The Assembly in the 2020 budget has made some provisions to get electricity extended to those communities.

Health

There are several health facilities in the district. These include hospitals, maternity homes, health centers etc.

The Ankaase Methodist Faith Healing Hospital is the Afigya Kwabre District Hospital and is located in Ankaase. Travel time from Kodie the district capital to Ankaase District Hospital takes about 30 minutes.

The three private hospitals are Top hill at Afrancho Abuohia, PAKS specialist at Afrancho Bronkong and Family Care Hospital at Mowire near Kodie.

The five-public health centers are located at Afrancho, Brofeyedru, Mpobi, Aboabogya and Adumakaase Kese.

All the four hospitals provide maternity services except PAKS, which is an EAR, Nose and Throat hospital. The four private maternity homes are located at Kodie, Atimatim, Buoho and Bronkong.

The health facilities in the District are being complimented by facilities in neighboring Districts, such as the St. Martins Hospital at Offinso (7km from the District Capital) and Komfo-Anokye Teaching Hospital in Kumasi (16km from the District Capital). Again, the relatively good road network in the District is facilitating the accessibility.

Common Diseases in the District

Malaria over the years has been the leading cause of cases reported each year at the health institutions. Looking at the three-year trend, with respect to increasing population, the period under review also saw malaria as first cause of outpatient disease. In 2016 alone, the district recorded 44,682 cases of malaria at the OPD followed by urinal tract infection with 28,898 cases.

Promote strategies such as subsidized distribution of mosquito nets, spraying of mosquito breeding places and environmental cleanliness to reduce malaria prevalence in the district.

HIV and AIDS

The issue of HIV and AIDS is of much importance to almost all nations in the world. For that matter, the district has made a lot of progress in putting measures in place to fight HIV/AIDS. These include'

- Regular meetings with stakeholders in the fight of HIV in the district.
- Monitoring of PMTCT sites through the District Response Management Team

- Assisting PLHIV financially who are in dire need

Table2.3: PMTCT, Afigya Kwabre District, 2019-2020

The number of pregnant women testing for HIV at the ANC has been on the decrease since 2018. Mothers who tested positive (+) have on the contrary has increased from 83 in 2018 to 84 and 93 in 2019 and 2020 respectively. This calls for an intensified HIV and AIDS education, counseling and support in the district to check the spread of the menace and reduce HIV and AIDS prevalence rate in Ashanti Region and the nation as a whole.

Family Planning

The coverage for family planning in the district has been increasing over the years. Total family planning acceptor rate has increased from 7,769 in 2019 to 12,065 in 2020. There was 55.3% (percentage) increase in the acceptance level between 2019 and 2020. It is good sign because birth control is the way to go for the nation.

Education

The day-to-day administration of education in the district is discharged by the Ghana Education Service (GES) through the District Education Directorate. However, the District Assembly also offers support to the Directorate for the delivery of education as well as the provision of school infrastructure with the aim of making education accessible to all.

Teacher – Pupil Ratio - 17:1

Teacher –Students Ratio- 25:1

The ratios show that Teachers are available in the District. This is partly attributable to its closeness to Kumasi and many other urban centers.

From the Table above, it is clear that about 20% of children who are supposed to be in school are out of school. This is attributable to reasons like involvement in income generating activities and teenage pregnancy. Most of the young boys in the District work as drivers' mates in 'Trotro'.

Market Centres

Afigya Kwabre South District has most of its market been daily market which supplies its communities mainly with plantain, cassava, cocoyam, rice, yam and maize. These markets bring a source of revenue and jobs for the market women. The Assembly has made provision in the 2021 budget to construct market facilities at Buoho and kyekyere-Kyerase to complement the already existing ones within the District.

Water and Sanitation

Access to potable water in the district is quite encouraging. The major sources of potable water for the inhabitants in the district include boreholes mostly provided by the Development Partners to communities and Pipe borne water from Ghana Water Company.

In all, there are 307 functional boreholes in the District. Again, a Small Towns Water System project has been constructed at Mpobi, Ejuratia and Ankaase. The Hon. Member of parliament has constructed a number of functional boreholes in some communities. Twenty (20) communities currently have access to pipe borne water though the flow is irregular.

On sanitation, there are 87 public latrines in the District. The communities through their Assembly Members and Unit Committees manage most of these. On household toilets, the District Assembly has made it a policy that every residential unit should have a toilet facility.

Tourism

The district can boast of natural environment ranging from forest reserves with rich species of flora and fauna to vast arable land that can support the production of both staple and cash crops.

The district also has a number of undeveloped tourist sites. These include the Grotto at Buoho, Buoho rock outcrops and a shrine located at Abuabogya in which the Ashanti hid the Golden Stool during the war with the British. The Assembly has allocated funds in the 2021 budget to procure a binocular to be placed on top of the highest peak in the district for panoramic view as well develop the shrine at Abuabogya.

Revenue Mobilization Strategies

Key Revenue Source

The Assembly's performance in local revenue mobilization has been dropping over the years. The Assembly did not meet most of the revenue targets, especially during the period under review.

The low performance in revenue mobilization is attributable to the COVID-19 pandemic as well as other factors including:

- a. Inadequate reliable data base on revenue items and activities in the district.
- b. Over reliance on traditional sources of internally generated fund (not widening the tax net)
- c. Inadequate logistics to support mobilization of internally generated revenue
- d. Inadequate capacity of revenue staff
- e. Lack of enforcement of Assembly Bye – Laws to enforce revenue mobilization
- f. Lack of motivation for revenue staff
- g. Inadequate supervision and monitoring of revenue collection.

Strategies for Internally Generated Revenue

The under listed strategies will be vigorously pursued by the Assembly in 2023 and beyond to improve internal revenue mobilization. Key amongst them are the following:

- Setting revenue targets for all five (5) zonal councils
- Institute punitive measures for non-performing Revenue Collectors (salary embargo)
- Establishment of a credible revenue database for realistic and efficient budgeting
- Reactivation of revenue taskforce and prosecution of tax defaulters
- Instituting an award scheme to reward outstanding Revenue Collectors
- Task the Information Department to embark on rigorous routine tax education
- Strengthen existing revenue barriers and construct new ones
- Procurement of Revenue Software
- Enforce payment of rent (Assembly bungalows and stalls)
- Carry out public education on the need to acquire permit before project development
